README: website Current Issues

A few things we need to work on. Important information.

The website launch went smoothly, but we still have a few things to work out:

- Some users noticed that sometimes, when they're logged in, they change names. They take the identity of someone else (in the upper right corner, they see "logout" and not their name after).

We've seen that before, and we're working on it. But the most important thing is that when performing any action, your actual name is stored in the system.

If you edit a document, create one... YOUR name will be stored. This is just a display bug.

- As of now, the login "nemo_user" for the TRAC access is disabled. Your website login should be used instead. Communication about bug / evolutions should be greatly improved.
- Last thing, if you're using the online editor (for writing an article), you MUST use Firefox. A new online editor is on the way, we've tried it, it's going to be much better, but it is still not ready. This editor will support all web browsers (Safari, IE, Opera and Firefox).

If you see something wierd, a bug, something not right, please feel free to mail us at nemo\_st@locean-ipsl.upmc.fr

Thanks !
